3.1. LanguageCert USAL esPro Listening and Reading (Paper-based)

The LanguageCert USAL esPro Listening and Reading (Paper-based) test lasts 110 minutes and evaluates listening and reading skills, and knowledge of grammar and vocabulary. The test includes the following question types:

  - o multiple-choice cloze to choose from the four options given
  - o open cloze to select the right word for the gap
- Gapped sentences: candidates are given individual sentences with one word missing each. They choose the correct word to fill the gap from the four options given.

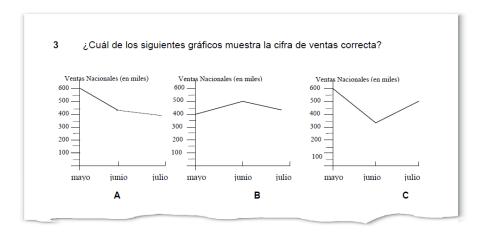

The test is divided into two parts: Listening and Reading

3.1.1. Listening

Part	Type of task	# questions
	Type of cask	# questions
Part 1	Understanding short conversations or monologues.	10
Part 2	Taking down phone messages orders, notes, etc.	12
Part 3	Listening for gist, identifying topic, context or function.	10
	Short monologues/ dialogues.	10
Part 4	Listening to extend speech for detail and inference. Monologue/dialogue.	18

3.1.1.1. Understanding short recordings (10 questions)

You listen to 10 short recordings (each about 20 seconds long) and try to understand what the people are talking about, or who is talking or what they are trying to say in each one. You have to choose the correct answer from three options (A, B or C). For the first five questions the three options are pictures. You will hear the recordings twice. In the example below, you have to listen and decide which graph the speaker is talking about.

3.1.1.2. Taking down messages, notes, etc. (12 questions)

You listen to three recordings. For each one, you have a form, a note or notes to complete, using the information you hear. You need to listen carefully, as you will hear each recording only once.

3.1.1.3. Understanding short recordings (10 questions)

It consists of two sections, with one recording and five questions in each one. Each question is about 20 seconds long. The whole recording is 2 minutes long. You have to listen and try to understand what the people are talking about, or who is talking or what they are trying to say in each one. In the example below, you hear five people talking. There are nine different options to choose from (A-I). You have to listen to each person talking and decide they most like about their work. You need to listen carefully as you will hear the five questions only once. In the real test, there is a second task like this one.

3.1.1.4. Understanding a longer recording (18 questions)

It consists of three sections (three recordings). In each one, you listen to a longer conversation or presentation and you have to answer detailed questions about what the people are saying. There are six questions for each recording, and for each question you choose from three options (A, B or C). You will hear the recordings twice. In the example below, find the first three questions for this recording. Remember that there will be three more questions to answer for this section and two more recordings to listen to, each with six questions which you have to answer.

3.1.2. Reading

3.1.2.3. Longer text with multiple-choice questions (6 questions)

You have to read a longer text and answer six multiple-choice questions. The questions test your general understanding of the text and your ability to find specific information. Read the text and see if you can answer the two questions of the example. In the real test the text will be longer, and you will have four more questions to answer.

3.1.2.4. Filling gaps in a text (5 questions)

You have to read a text in which there are some missing words (gaps). For each gap, you have to write the correct word to complete the sentence. You must write only one word in each space. This type of exercise tests your grammatical knowledge of Spanish.

3.1.2.5. Finding information in short texts (7 questions)

You read four short texts, such as adverts, product descriptions, etc. Then you match different sentences with each of those texts. There are seven sentences and four texts (A, B, C or D), so you may have to use each text more than once. In the example below, you have to read the sentences and match each one to one of the texts. In the real exam, there will be two more texts and four more sentences.

3.1.2.6. Filling gaps in a text with options (5 questions)

This type of exercise tests your knowledge of grammar and vocabulary. You have to read a text with five words missing. There is a choice of four words (A, B, C or D) for each gap and you have to choose the best answer. The example below is part of an extract with three of the five questions. Choose the best word to fill each space from the four choices given for each gap.

3.1.2.7. Filling gaps in a text (5 questions)

You have to read a text in which five words are missing and think of a word to fill each gap. Read the text below and try to think of the right word to fill each of the gaps.

3.1.2.8. Sentences with a gap (6 questions)

You have to choose the right word or phrase to fill a gap in a sentence. There are four choices (A, B, C or D) for each question. Have a look at the two questions below and see if you can decide which word you need to complete each sentence. In the real exam, there will be four more questions like these for you to answer.

3.1.2.9. Understanding a longer text (6 questions)

You read a longer text, such as part of a business report, a newspaper article, etc. Then you answer some detailed questions on it. You have to choose from four options (A, B, C or D) for each question. The example below shows you part of an article and two of the six questions. Remember that there will be four more questions like these in the real exam.

TODA LA VERDAD SOBRE LOS MÁS FALSOS En el mundo de la piratería existe un axioma que no falla: cuanto más reconocido sea un producto, más réplicas tendrá en el mercado. Durante el año pasado, las Fuerzas de Seguridad se incautaron en España de mercancía falsificada por un valor que a precio de calle hubiera rondado los 180 millones de euros. Pero esta cantidad no es más que la cabeza visible del iceberg, la cifra real no se sabe. Lo que sí es sabido es que el daño que provocan es enorme. Desde la Asociación Nacional de la Defensa de la Marca (ANDEMA) apuntan que el negocio de la copia afecta al 65% de las firmas más reputadas. El sector textil, junto con marroquinería, relojería y complementos representan el 80% del plagio industrial En este tipo de delito, la valoración del daño se calcula por el número de unidades intervenidas por la Policía. Así, si alguien adquiere mercancía ilegítima repercute en proporción de uno a uno sobre el volumen de ventas del producto. El método vale para las prendas originales con precios asequibles, pero para el ámbito del lujo la cuantificación es casi abstracta. Vuitton, por ejemplo, no pierde un cliente directo cuando en cualquier salida de metro se vende un bolso con sus iniciales a un precio diez veces inferior, pero los efectos de estas falsificaciones también dejan su secuela. "Hay que entrar en valorar el daño moral, porque estamos hablando de productos cuyo atractivo se basa en la exclusividad. Las empresas de este sector sufren un grave deterioro de imagen," señalan en ANDEMA. En el texto se dice que el año pasado las falsificaciones: representaron un volumen de ventas de 180 millones de euros. influyeron en el 65% de las marcas de prestigio. afectaron al 80% del sector industrial. aumentaron las réplicas. Según el texto, la cuantificación del daño en las marcas de lujo: qq debería tener en cuenta el deterioro de la imagen. guarda una relación de uno a uno. se basa en la pérdida de la clientela toma en consideración el factor de la exclusividad

3.1.2.10. Correcting errors in a text (7 questions)

You have to read a text which is at least seven lines long. Some lines have errors in them. If the line is correct, you put a tick ( $\checkmark$ ) on your answer sheet. If there is a wrong word in the line, you write the correct word on your answer sheet. In the example below, see if you can find any errors in lines 104–106. Remember that there will be four more lines to check in the real exam.

104	Queremos informarle de que el próximo 1 de enero nuestras oficinas,
104
105	que hasta ahora eran funcionando en la calle Mayor, 2, serán trasladadas a la calle Colón, 3.
106	Las razones que nos han obligado a adoptar este decisión no han sido otras que intentar

3.2. LanguageCert USAL esPro Listening and Reading (Computer-based)

The LanguageCert USAL esPro Listening and Reading (Computer-based) test includes a large number of questions, covering all levels of language proficiency (from basic to advanced). Questions appear on the computer's screen and candidates need a keyboard and a mouse to respond. The test's adaptive feature depicts the use of state-of-the-art assessment technology, given the fact that the questions are automatically selected based on the right or wrong responses provided by the candidate. In other words, the questions become progressively easier or more difficult, adapting uniquely to each candidate's skills (i.e. if the candidate gives a wrong answer, an easier question follows; if the candidate gives a correct answer, the next question will be more difficult).

The Computer-based adaptive test offers:

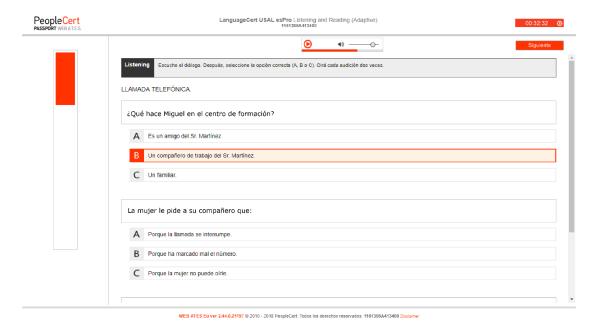

- a shorter in length testing session than the Paper-based version, since a smaller number of questions is needed to determine the candidate's level.
- test lasts ≃60 minutes, while the Paper-based lasts 110 minutes, and evaluates reading and listening skills, knowledge of grammar and vocabulary, as the Paper-based version.

The test includes the following question types:

3.2.1. Listening

There is no 'Pass' or 'Fail' mark. Test takers upon the completion of the LanguageCert USAL esPro test will receive:

- Test Report, which presents in a clear and easy-to-understand way
  - o the candidate's overall score
  - separate scores for every language skill taken Listening and Reading &Writing and Speaking
  - a summary of "Can Do" statements aligned with the CEFR levels. These are functional/situational statements that describe what a candidate would be expected to do at work place at a specific CEFR level in Spanish.
- Certificate, where the candidate's results corresponding to a level from A1 to C2 are presented, for scores of 10 or above

4.3.1. Calculation of the test score

The overall score of the LanguageCert USAL esPro Listening & Reading test is not simply an average of the individual scores of each test session (Listening, Reading), and it is calculated based on a specific scoring algorithm that identifies the candidate's language competence, as each test section carries a different weight. For example, if the Listening Score is 50 and the Reading Score is 60, the overall score will not necessarily be 55.
